STEALING AND PLAGARISING FROM ALL THE MOST HATED AND LOVED ART MOVEMENTS OF THE PAST, AND LAUGHING AT THE IDEA OF IT ALL, CREATING ART THAT IS SO ANTI IT GOES ALL THE WAY BACK AROUND AND VICE VERSA. COMBINING THE PROABSURDITY AND ANTI EVERYTHING OF DADA, THE ANTI PROFIT AND PRO LIBERATION OF THE SITUATIONISTS, THE RAWNESS OF ART BRUT AND OUTSIDER ART, THE ANTI AUDIENCE/CREATOR OF THE NEOISTS, THE THOUGHTLESS AND AUTOMATIC NATURE OF AUTOMATISM, THE WACKY TACTICS, NEW PERSPECTIVE, AND OBSESSION WITH THE SUBCONCIOUS OF THE SURREALISTS, AND A COMPLETE DISREGARD FOR "GOODNESS", "SKILL", "TALENT".

EVERYTHING IS PROANTI! NOTHING IS PROANTI! JOIN US!!!!

This isn't a guide intended for human beings. As a nonhuman am I an expert in not being human? IDK but I have no expertise in teaching humans how to not be. There is nothing wrong with being human. There are free humans.

This is for people who feel like they can't relate to anyone, & even though they don't hate people, they'd like to lead a more fulfilling life than as a robot. I tried again and again to be normal → It didn't work and it never will work and its OK that it won't work!!

ACCEPT ALL CONSEQUENCES

I get having no self control. I really do.

But sometimes B4 U make a mistake its important to at least try 2 reconsider your motivations. Just because stopping urself is impossible doesn't mean that you can't reconsider if u really want to according 2 ur own motivations.

Own your mistakes and focus more on not doing them again than apologizing. Yeah everyone knows exactly how sorry U R, but that just turns a situation that was about how they were displeased into one about how bad U feel 4 being called out. Someone says U did something wrong? Do U like that person? Then they're right. U did it wrong. Don't do it again.

Its good 2 B ballsy, but U won't like Urself if U go around fucking Urself. Whatever U do, B prepared 2 face the pain 4 it. U will feel more proud of urself if U face a challenge with a smile instead of helplessness. No animal likes a cage, but U live in a world filled with humans who want 2 cage U.

Don't back away from a fight U started. Its better 2 get ur ass kicked & crawl away beaten as opposed to walk away ashamed & jerk off about it later.

UR ITEMS ARE PART OF UR COSTUME

In general I am scrawny & lazy so IMO its best to carry as few items as possible. Several small bags strapped to U are way better than 1 big bag that needs dragged around by a handle. Ideally, all of ur possessions in the world should be carried on U @ all times. Bulky items, such as clothes, can be kept at a friends home with the exception of a spare on ur person.

A bike is an item. Bikes should B ur prized possession & significant time should B invested N learning how to repair them, keep them safe, & share them.

Parts of bikes can be removed from locked bikes to repair urs & ur friends rides. Volunteer @ a free bike shop 2 gain skills & get free bike stuff. Think about where U R stealing from. Its a dick move 2 steal bikes from another homeless person or nonhuman. Taking from a bike covered in stickers & signs of love will break someone's heart. Steal from some college student who will replace it with Uncle Bo's $$$. @ the end of the day ur want is greater than anyone else's. *shrugg***

Learn 2 sew so u can fix ur bag & add patches 2 ur clothes 2 look kewl!

HUMANS

They aren't bad. A lot of humans don't do anything except for try to help people and build anarchy. They are wonderful people. They seem robotic. I wish I could B like them. Everything they do underlines how much better they are at pacing themselves. I used to be in love with a human and he worked at a restaurant 4 years until it went out of business. Super impressive. As a species they are capable of holding back, hiding things beyond the obvious ways, and controlling their facial expressions. Most humans are too submissive and so they can be (more easily) manipulated into doing bad things by bad people. They either don't care who they are, or they have a clear picture and can ask themselves "who am I" without spiraling into anxiety and thinking about something else.

~~LOL~~ WHAT EVEN THE FUCK?

(NOT A HUMAN<sup>(S "PROANTI")</sup>) OF COURSE I CAN SHOW YOU. SO ITS SORT OF
THIS ABSTRACT, STREAM OF CONCIOUSNESS TYPE THING...

U just have so many powerful emotions and U don't know how to contain them so U fail to control yourself no matter how hard you try and try and try. Personally I don't shut up, but maybe a different nonhuman might never feel the inclination to talk at all. I certainly wouldn't do it if I didn't feel like it. Doing the things that U want to do becomes so important that external observers confuse it for obligation or responsibility. Whatever ur nature is, U are just like that. Not-a-humans are not as sentient as humans, but that doesn't make you less valuable. Consider eating less meat. The reason U can't hold a job is the same reason a gorilla can't.

TO EXPLAIN IT WOULD BE TO GO DIRECTLY AGAINST
EVERYTHING IT IS. GOOD THING
I HATE IT AND DONT CARE

LIVE WHERE U CAN

Fun is kewl. Living outside like a deer isn't fun for me. Its better to live inside like a raccoon. Walk in to an abandoned house & sleep there. Break N the back door & change the locks. Refer to previous chapter for how to acquire locks. As it gets colder, insulate windows with blankets & cardboard, staples, & clear shower curtains over some for visibility (light). U might be surprised or dissapointed with which rooms are more warm than others afterwards. Just roll with it. Sleep where its warm. Acquire heat packs from a dollar store & stuff them in ur blankets for when U sleep. Get a propane heater. Put a tent over ur mattress & sleep in it (but make sure the propane heat doesn't give ur small tent carbon monoxide poisoning.

TAKE WHAT PLEASERS U

If U want something, then take it. Shoplift food. Steal things from stores U could get legally if doing so is quicker. Just grab that queen sized sour skittles bag and walk out with it. Steal from enemies because theft from friends makes them enemies so don't do it. If U don't want to steal something then U either have it easy or don't want it.

When stealing, just ignore the cashier shouting @ U. If someone warns that they're calling the cops, laugh & leave. They were stupid 2 warn U.

DEALING WITH HUMANS AS A NOT A HUMAN

Why would I waste time writing about how to deal with humans you don't like? Tell them to fuck off and make them go away. Besides, its more of a kewl feeling to be nice 2 people!

Since humans thrive on consistency they hate if U don't do what you say you will. Show up & do a bad job B4 u cancel.

Instead of making plans, try to find other plans humans have made and just go along with those. U don't really have the capacity 4 planning or strategy so that's their job. Trust them. When forced 2 make plans keep them short term and make sure to keep everyone involved.

DEALING WITH EARTH AS A NOT A HUMAN

It feels so much better 2B nice & say that everything is sunshine & rainbows, but the world is a sadistic, greedy, bigoted, apathetic place. The hierarchies don't value U because how the fuck are you supposed to be useful to Capitalism when U don't pay your bills.

The tyrants of the world R only interested in humans because they have souls to suck out of their bodies while you only have a heartbeat.

Theres nowhere that U can feel good on Earth other than anywhere with an atmosphere of pure freedom. Find those. So so so many people of both kinds care so much about creating and experiencing freedom. Its going to be easier than you think. I promise that its worth it.
